

PET VET

Darrel & Sally Odgers

Series Fiction | Ages 7-11 | Paperback | 5 x 7 ¾ | 96 pp | $4.99

Cranky Paws ISBN: 978-1-935279-01-3 LOC: 2008943430 | The Mare's Tale ISBN: 978-1-935279-02-0 LOC: 2008933431

Motorbike Bob ISBN: 978-1-935279-08-2 LOC: 2009922117 | The Python Problem ISBN: 978-1-935279-16-7 LOC: 2009931233

The Kitten's Tale ISBN: 978-1-935279-76-1 LOC: 2010923987 | The Pup's Tale ISBN: 978-1-61067-351-8 LOC: 2014939756

Trump, a Jack Russell terrier, lives with her owner, Dr. Jeanie, behind the Pet Vet Clinic. Trump has the important job of Animal Liaison Officer, helping the animals being treated at the clinic.

- Illustrations by Janine Dawson.
- Short sentences, manageable chapters for younger readers.
- Engaging characters appeal to animal lovers.
- Fact-filled notes on pet care add value.

My mind kept wandering back to Goldie. I know mother dogs can be a bit anxious when they have new pups. Goldie seemed more than a bit anxious. I hoped Shaz would look after her well.

I cheered up when our friends Donna and Terri came in with their senior dog,

Blue merle—
A coat color with mixed shades of gray and a bit of tan and white.

Terdona Smokey Mountain. Smoke is a blue merle sheltie. He's what Dr. Jeanie calls a gentleman dog.

She means he is polite and well-mannered.

"Hello, Smoke," I said. "How are you feeling now?"

"I'm quite well, young Trump," said Smoke. "My stitches itch a bit, that's all."

Dr. Jeanie had removed a cyst from Smoke's shoulder on his last visit. He had come to have his stitches taken out.

Cyst (sist)—
A lump under the skin that is usually filled with fluid.